I was born 31 years ago in Bologna (Italy), where I live now. I have always been interested in photos, a passion inherited from my father. I was intrigued by photography because I felt that I could hold an instant of time of emotion a memory right in my hands. Only a few years ago I started myself actively to work in the field of photography. I did not have school, I learned along the way, looking at hundreds of images of renowned photographers, trying to understand the used techniques and steal their secrets. Photography is my passion, it's my escape, my way of being, of expressing myself. It's a way of seeing the world but also a way to express my feelings and thoughts, which I could have never done through words. As Richard Avedon says "if a day goes by without my doing something related to photography it's as though I've neglected something essential to my existence, as though I had forgotten to wake up".

42 years old. I grew up on the kibbutz "Parod" in the north of Israel. At the age of 13 I discovered my love for photography and was drawn to creative art photography. I began to study photography on my own by reading various books and also by a friend of mine who had a lab for developing photos in other words a darkroom. I enjoyed photographing nature and people, and I enjoyed developing my own pictures. At 18, I joined the Israel Defense Forces as a paratrooper and I served the army for three years. I then went back to the kibbutz to work with cotton growing. Two years later I decided to fly to the Far East and Australia where I spent two years with my camera exploring different places and cultures through photography.

Upon my return to Israel I turned to a different type of art - gardening work. I started to design and develop gardens and for 12 years I was an independent business manager and designer for gardens. In 2007 I was injured in my work and was unable to continue as a garden designer. I decided to re-school and I returned to photography, which I still loved very much and still felt passionate about. I enrolled in the photography school "Mentor" and I came to realize that I was very attracted to fashion photography. I feel that I can, by expressing my own creativity, make other people creative and open up in front of the camera.

For me fashion is a way of life and the connection to art through the beauty of thought and I believe that the right light can get you anywhere. To me the photographer Peter Lindbergh is the world's top photographer and he is a great inspiration to me. I strive to make most of my photography very natural and to me it is important to create a dialogue through the photographs and the models. I aim to move the insides out to create dramatic photos with perfect lighting and interesting and unusual angles. In recent years I have worked with a number of top modeling agencies in Israel like mc2, Roberto where I perform various photo productions. In addition to photography, I edit and produce the whole production series and try to be a part of every aspect of the production process. Some of my work has been published on websites like "Wala" and "Mako" and in Israeli fashion magazines like "For Women" and in sections of the newspaper "Yediot Aharonot".

Photographer and video director based in Milan

I was born in Sicily in July 9, 1987 and I moved to Milan in 2008

I'm a self-taught photographer and video maker. Two years ago I discovered video and now I think that video is the completion of photography.

Since I was young I always read Vogue and dreamed to reproduce these suggestive and strange pictures. Photography, for me, it's the way to research beauty and I absolutely love unconventional and strong pictures. Milan gave me the opportunity to know and work with the most important Italian contemporary photographer and makeup artist like Letizia Maestri (makeup artist), Giovanni Gastel, Ton Thormbert, Settimio Benedusi. Alice Rosati's work has been published on some Italian and international magazine like Sharp Magazine, Poker Magazine (Swedish), Flawless Magazine, Airone.

I love surrealism, conceptual art and metaphysics so I will always try to put some of these elements in my pictures.

Delevingne signed with Storm Model Management in 2009 and modelled in Clements Ribeiro and Burberry fashion shows in 2010. In 2011, Delevingne was featured in Burberry's spring/summer 2011 campaign. Delevingne later became the face of Burberry's spring/summer 2012 campaign shot by Mario Testino alongside actor Eddie Redmayne.

As a young girl, Delevingne modelled for Cadbury chocolate ads. She is currently the face of Burberry's Beauty campaign alongside fellow British models Edie Campbell and Jourdan Dunn.

Delevingne has featured in advertising campaigns for other brands including H&M Authentic Collection (2011), Dominic Jones Jewellery (2012), Blumarine, Zara, and Chanel.[23] She was recently described by British Vogue as the "star face" of the autumn/winter 2012-2013 show season, having appeared on the catwalk for brands such as Shiatzy Chen, Moschino, Jason Wu, Oscar de la Renta, Burberry, Dolce & Gabbana, Fendi, Stella McCartney, Dsquared and Chanel. Delevingne has graced the covers of Vogue UK thrice including a supplement cover in 2011; Vogue (Korea, Australia, Brasil, Japan, Italia, Portugal), LOVE, i-D, Russh, Jalouse, and Style.com's Spring 2013 issue. In addition, she was the cover girl of W's September 2013 issue. She also walked down the catwalk as a model in the 2012 and 2013 Victoria's Secret fashion shows. She is also the face of Chanel's Resort 2013 campaign along with Dutch model Saskia de Brauw. She also landed the face of DKNY in late 2012.

Delevingne's distinctive dark, bushy eyebrows are her model trademark. In 2012, Delevingne won the "Model of the Year" award at the British Fashion Awards.

Delevingne also sings and plays the drums.[8][36] In 2013 she recorded an acoustic duet cover version of "Sonrientanz" with Will Heard.

Named the BFA's Model of the Year in Fall 2012

Cara Jocelyn Delevingne was born in London on August 12, 1992, the daughter of Pandora Anne Delevingne (née Stevens) and property developer Charles Hamel Delevingne. She attended Bedales School in Hampshire. She has two older sisters, Chloe and model Poppy Delevingne. Her grandfather is Conde Nast executive Nicholas Coleridge and her godmother is actress Joan Collins.

Delevingne's maternal grandfather is the former publishing executive and English Heritage chairman, Lord John Stevens, nephew of magazine publisher Sir Edward George Warril Hulton and grandson of newspaper proprietor Sir Edward Hulton, 1st Baronet. Her maternal grandmother, Lady Shell, was lady-in-waiting to Princess Margaret.

Her paternal great grandfather was the Canadian born British politician Hamar Greenwood. Her paternal grandmother, through one of her maternal great-great-grandfathers, Sir Lionel Lawson Fausch & Fausch Phillips, 1st Baronet, Delevingne descends from the Anglo-Jewish Fausch Phillips baronets, two of her ancestors on that line served as Lord Mayor of London.

DELEVINGNE

Delevingne had a small part in the 2012 film adaptation of Tolstoy's Anna Karenina, as Princess Sorokina, the marriage interest of Count Vronsky played by Aaron Taylor Johnson. In 2013, Delevingne appeared in the Grand Theft Auto V video game as the DJ for the Non-Stop-Pop FM radio station. She also stars opposite Kate Beckinsale and Daniel Brühl in the thriller The Face of an Angel, expected to be released theatrically in 2014. In April 2014, it was reported that Delevingne will play the role of Henrietta in period romance film Tulip Fever directed by Justin Chadwick.

She will also play a small part in the 2015 drama film Far from the Madding Crowd directed by Joe Wright. On 16 September 2014 it was announced that Delevingne would play the lead female role of Margot Roth Spiegelman in the film adaptation of John Green's novel Paper Town.

En esta ocasión, con el cercano fin del verano... hemos jugado a mantener esas reminiscencias estivales, pero mezclándolas con las futuras sudaderas, chaquetas y jersey que vendrán en otoño a las tiendas Jugando con ese deseo de "alargar el verano" pero a la vez, rindiéndose a la evidencia del cambio de estación y manteniendo así esa dualidad verano-otoño
